

I've arrived!

Special delivery from the North Pole

Dear _____,

Hello from your very own visiting elf! I flew all the way from the North Pole last night to spend December with your family.

My job is to watch, listen and send a little report to the North Pole each night about the kind, helpful and brave things I see. I already know you are going to give me lots to write about.

Each night I will fly home and come back to a brand-new spot, so look for me every morning. I can't talk, and it's best to look with your eyes and not your hands, but I love reading notes and seeing your drawings.

I can't wait for all the fun we'll have before Christmas!
